DAVID B. PURVIANCE, one of the pioneer farmers of the State, was born in Giles County, Tenn., March 21, 1819, and is a son of Eleaser and Elizabeth (Orr) Purviance. His grandfather was a Colonel in the Revolutionary war. His father was a native of North Carolina, and died in this township in 1869. When David was ten years of age, his parents moved to this State, and settled in this township, where they purchased eighty acres, a part of which is now the Union fair grounds. Here he attended school and worked for his father until he was twenty-one years old, after which period he received a share of the products. On December 26, 1844, Mr. Purviance was married to Miss Fannie Hamilton, a native of Ireland, daughter of Edward Hamilton. She died October 8, 1858, leaving four children—Edward D., Mary F., Fannie and Lizzie A. Mr. Purviance was next married, April 1, 1860, to Miss Mary M. Beck, a native of Union County, daughter of Anthony Beck.

SAMUEL COURTENAY, JR. (1728–1788), of Baltimore, Md., was Chairman of the Committee of Safety of Baltimore, April 14, Prof. Dewey, an eminent teacher of that day. In 1830, he entered the sophomore class of Middlebury College, Vt., then in the height of its prosperity, under the able presidency of Rev. Joshua Bates, D.D., and after Yale and Harvard, equal to any of the New-England colleges, a statement abundantly verified by the list of distinguished graduates, who in the different professions have reflected honor upon their alma mater and their native State.

Inheriting from his father a predilection for the law, immediately upon his graduation, in 1833, he entered upon the study of his profession. Two years were spent at Saratoga Springs, with Judge Ezek Cowan, eminent as a jurist and author, and continued his studies in the office of Nicholas Hill of Albany, one of the most accomplished lawyers of the New-York bar. One acquainted with Mr. Hill characterized him to me as "at the front of the bar of Albany, and one of the foremost lawyers of the State of New York." A third year was spent at the New-Haven Law-School, attached to Yale College, under the instruction of Judges Daggett and Hitchcock.

At the completion of his term of study, he was strongly urged by Mr. Hill to join him in a co-partnership for the practice of law in New-York City; but a friend, who had spent a short time at the West and in Chicago, returned with such glowing accounts of the wondrous possibilities of this new city, with its inducements to young men of energy and enterprise, that he was led to change his partly-formed plans, and in July, 1836, came to Chicago. He was admitted to the bar immediately on his arrival, and in the autumn entered upon the active practice of the law, associated with George Anson Oliver Beaumont, as partner. In 1839–40, during the mayoralty of Alexander Loyd, he was elected city attorney, and transacted the law business of the city with eminent success. He was master-in-chancery for Cook County for many years, but his first purely-political appointment was that of United-States district attorney, by President Tyler, to succeed Justin Butterfield; the district then embracing the entire State. Having held the office and familiarized himself with its routine of duties, it was only natural that he should desire to retain it, and when Mr. Polk's administration came in, he sought a second term, his claim being contested by Isaac N. Arnold. The contest between the two applicants was a very protracted and animated one—so animated, indeed, that a compromise was effected by conferring the office upon a third party—but the struggle had given Mr. Skinner an impressive view of the descents a man must make to obtain the federal patronage, and he resolved that this struggle for federal office should be his last.

The year 1841 was made memorable to him, in his truest life, by his marriage, on May 21, to Elizabeth Magill Williams.

Mr. Skinner was elected a member of the Illinois legislature in 1846, the session being held from the first Monday in Dec. (7), 1846, until March 1, 1847. In the light of subsequent history, we recognize the priceless value of the arduous, broad, and enduring work accomplished by him during this brief period. "He was made chairman of the committee on finance, at that time the most important committee in the house. During the time that he occupied this position, he drew up and procured the passage through the house of a bill refunding the State debt—a bill which was far-reaching in its influence upon the finances of the State. It reduced all the multiplied forms of State indebtedness—there being six or eight different styles of State bonds—into a convenient and manageable shape, ascertained the limit of the debt, and effectually cut off the possibility of frauds in issuing new and unauthorized issues of bonds. In fact, the bill evoked method and sys-

United-States circuit and district court—called the District of Illinois, held their terms at Springfield, the seat of government. If I may trust the legal annals of those days at hand, with the testimony of men still living, who were actors, there was no state west of the Alleghanies which possessed a body of men equal to those who practised law in the courts of Illinois. There were Thomas Drummond, Charles S. Hempstead, Elihu B. Washburne, Joseph P. Hoge, Joseph B. Wells, Benjamin Mills, and Thompson Campbell of Galena. Of Quincy: Archibald Williams, Chas. B. Lawrence, Orville H. Browning, Nehemiah Bushnell, Isaac N. Morris, and Wm. A. Richardson. At the Springfield bar were Stephen Trigg Logan, Abraham Lincoln, Edward Dickinson Baker, John Todd Stuart, Stephen Arnold Douglas, John J Hardin, and Lyman Trumbull; and at Peoria: Lincoln B. Knowlton, and Onslow Peters, Norman H. Purple, Amos L. Merriman, Julius Manning, Thomas Ford, and William L. May. Among these, Judge Skinner stood a peer.

In looking at his legal career, I may say that litigation for its own sake, possessed for him no attractions. He could only enter the arena and deal vigorous blows when convinced that justice was his ally. His thorough education in the principles of law and equity, secured for him, under all circumstances, the respect of the bar and the bench. He had a stronghold on his clients, through an unbending rectitude, a shrewd insight into the cardinal principles involved, and also a delicate sense of honor. With an unusual quickness of perception he united moderation in action—a rare combination.

The same cause which led Judge Skinner to decline reëlection to the bench, operated to prevent him from resuming the general practice of his profession.

During Judge Skinner's residence in Chicago he had been frequently consulted by Eastern capitalists in regard to investments here both in purchases of real estate and loans. His comprehensive knowledge of the law, as applied to real estate, and his accurate business habits, eminently fitted him for the successful management of such business. It may be stated, on good authority, that no person in this country has invested for non-resident capitalists anything like the amount of money that has passed through the hands of Judge Skinner; and in individual instances, single sums, ranging all the way from $5000 to $600,000, have been carefully and judiciously loaned. Specially prominent was his long and honorable connection with the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company; and here, I am permitted to read a Memorial presented to the board of directors of this company, on the occasion of Judge Skinner's death, and prepared by his warmly-attached friend, the president, Col. Jacob L. Greene—a document, I am quite sure, wholly unprecedented in the history of trust relationship:

"The directors of this company having learned of the death of the Hon. Mark Skinner, who was for more than thirty years its financial correspondent, and their own trusted, confidential advisor at Chicago, entered upon their records this minute, desiring thereby to recall and to mark their sense of the peculiar importance and value of his services to it in that relation, involving the investment of over $27,500,000, the acquistion by unavoidable foreclosure, and the subsequent sale of large amounts of real estate, and the personal oversight and handling of these great interests during all the dangerous and trying vicissitudes, which fell upon the country at large, and upon his own city in particular, during that most eventual period; the singular intelligence, foresight, sound judgment, delicacy, courage, fidelity, and single heartedness with which he treated every question, faced every emergency, and discharged every duty; his untiring watchfulness of every in-

The original record-book kept by Col. Todd during his residence in the County of Illinois has been preserved to our time by the merest chance. In November, 1879, a visitor at Kaskaskia learned that the old documents formerly kept there had been removed to the neighboring town of Chester, when it became the county-seat of Randolph County, Illinois. Upon inquiry at the latter place, he was informed that several chests of these papers had stood for years in the hall of the court-house, until the greater part of their contents had been lost or destroyed. A small box had been filled with those that remained a few years before, and placed in one of the rooms of the building. These also had disappeared, and it was finally ascertained that they had been distributed among the different offices to be used as kindling, and all had been burned except one old book, which was found in a receptacle for fuel in the county-clerk's apartment. And this upon examination proved to be Col. John Todd's Record-Book, which subsequently, by vote of the commissioners of Randolph County, was deposited with the Chicago Historical Society for safe-keeping. Its contents are of sufficient interest and value, in connection with the early history of Illinois, to justify its publication in full in this volume. And in connection with it, such letters of Col. John Todd and those associated with him as could be found in the Canadian and Virginian archives are also published herein.* E. G. M.

† This memorandum has no connection with the other contents of the Record-Book, and was apparently inscribed by accident on its cover. Richard Winston, by whom it was written, was living in the Illinois Country as early as July, 1773. He was appointed by John Todd captain and commandant at Kaskaskia, May 14, 1779; was also sheriff-in-chief of that district, elected by the people, and was left in command at Kaskaskia by Todd, during his absence in June, 1779. In January, 1781, Winston was still commandant at Kaskaskia. This memorandum contains the only information we have concerning the revolution in his affairs which made him a State prisoner in 1782.—E. Dear Sir:

I am looking for cemetery information from the Sugar Creek Chapel Cemetery in Stockland Twp., possibly in Section 17. I understand that this cemetery may have been indexed sometime around 1979. Could you please give me the directions to find this cemetery?

I would like the dates for the following individuals who are reported to be buried there.

1. Suzanna (HACKLEMAN) WILLIAMS, b. 09 Sep 1787 in South Carolina, daughter of Jacob HACKLEMAN and Mary (OSBORN). She is reported to have died about 1870. She was the widow of Samuel WILLIAMS who died in Warren County, IN in 1839. Samuel was married at least once prior to his marriage to Suzanna. What was her death date?

2. Elizabeth (WILLIAMS) CURL, born about 1814, the wife of Ephriam CURL. This was her 3rd marriage.Her first marriage was to Pleasant HAWKINS and her 2nd was to Carpenter MOREY. I believe these first two husbands died in Indiana. She was the daughter of Samuel WILLIAMS and his first wife whose name I do not know. What are the dates given for her and for Ephriam?

3. John WILLIAMS, born about 1816, another child of Samuel WILLIAMS and the first wife. John was married to a Sarah or Sally Ann who was born about 1819. What are the dates given for them? (White)

4. Riller (WILLIAMS) WHITE, wife of Phillip WHITE. Riller was born about 1829, the daughter of Samuel WILLIAMS and Suzanna. She may have died about 1899. Phillip's dates may be 1828 to about 1917. What are the dates on the tombstones for these two?

5. James WILLIAMS, born about 1832, also the child of Samuel and Suzanna WILLIAMS. His wife's name was Martha who was born about 1840. Are they listed in this cemetery? (Stowe)

If it is possible, I would like photocopies of the pages of the index where these people are listed, and also the title page. I am enclosing #2.00 to cover the cost.

Thank you for your help.

Dear Marjorie,

A copy of pages from our plat book will direct to Sugar Creek Chapel Cemetery. We have not published a copy of the D.A.R. transcriptions of that cemetery. We have transferred each transcription to an index card filed in a master index of Iroquois county cemeteries. A copy of the D.A.R. notes are included for the names that you requested and that are found there.

According to our card index Susanna, wife of Samuel Williams is buried there in the Original part of the cemetery which lies nearest Sugar Creek and toward the north from the chapel. On a bulletin board is an index and plat map of the cemetery to help you find the graves. The bulletin board faces the west and stands south of the chapel.

Riller Williams White, July 5, 1830-Jan 27, 1899, age 68-6-22, wife of Phillip, and Phillip, Mar 13, 1828- Mar 26, 1917, age 89-0-13, are buried there.

Elizabeth Williams Curl, wife of Ephriam, Aug 31, 1814-Apr 7, 1890, 75-7-7 and Ephriam White, Aug 13, 1813-Mar 30, 1891, 77-7-17 are buried there.

James Williams, husband of Martha, 1833-1882 and Martha, 1840-1935, are buried there.

I did not find John Williams buried there according to the inscriptions. However, it may be that his grave marker has deteriorated and is no longer there.

We have a genealogical library here open afternnoons 12:30-4:30 on weekdays if you wish to do research here. A copy of our query assistance policy is included to give you an idea what you could search. The County Clerk's Office in the County Courthouse Annex and the Circuit Clerk's Office in the Iroquois County Courthouse are open weekdays from 8:30-4:30.

Your check for $2 is appreciated for copying expense and as a donation for our time. Donations are used to maintain our library.

Adams county, Ohio, August 14, 1824. With his brothers, his boyhood days were passed amid the privations and alarms incident to frontier life. While his brothers became heads of families, Asa seemed to be designated as the one to remain at home and care for the aged father. Consequently he married much later in life than his brothers. He was married July 14, 1867, to Mary Jane Bragg, and continues to reside quietly among scenes made memorable by the incidents of former years. Mr. Thomas is a republican, and has always manifested a strong interest in local affairs.

Benjamin F. Thomas, farmer, Milford, son of Asa and Eleanor Thomas, was born in Wehaw Plains, Indiana, May 20, 1830. The Thomas' settlement in Milford township is fully described in the history of that town. He was one of the children carried away in the flight that occurred on the supposed advance of hostile Indians. Mr. Thomas has lived in this town since very early childhood, and from him are derived many of the early reminiscences, particularly the description of the "ancient" log school-house, given in the same history. He located on section 4, where he now resides. Mr. Thomas was married to Miss Amanda A. Hoover, March 11, 1858, who died December 5, 1874. His brother Fantleyroy was killed at the Raymond, near Vicksburg, after having served three years in the 20th Ill. Vol., without a scratch. Mr. Thomas is a republican, and also a Master Mason, having served as Master of Milford Lodge. He has always been a pronounced temperance man.

Samuel Thomas, farmer, Milford, son of Asa Thomas, the original settler in this township, was born October 30, 1826, in Adams county, Ohio. He came to Illinois with his father's family in 1831, where he has since resided. Mr. Thomas has been twice married. His first wife was Catherine Pankake, to whom he was married December 23, 1850. In November, 1858, he married Maria L. Lewis, with whom he is still living. Many of the incidents contained in the early history of Milford township are furnished by Mr. Thomas. He was an eye-witness of all that he relates, and the early history of Milford is a record of the Thomas family since 1831. Mr. Thomas is a republican.

M, Margaret Williams

Bethuel P. Williamson, farmer, Milford, son of Samuel and Sarah Williamson, was born in Adams county, Ohio, April 7, 1816. Mr. Williamson's grandfather manufactured gunpowder for the American army during the American revolution. For this powder he received his pay in Continental money, and in the financial collapse at the close of the war he lost the avails of his seven years' work. Mr. Williamson's father served in the war of 1812, under McArthur, and was present when Flynn and Coy were murdered by Indians. He was one of the scouts sent after the Indians. The family removed to Fountain county, Indiana, in 1825, where they remained seven years. They then came to Iroquois county and settled in Crab Apple, where they remained seventeen years. The father died in Belmont. Mr. Williamson continued with his father until his marriage, in 1840, to Miss Margaret Williams. His second wife was Ellen Kelley. He was married to his third wife, Miss Ellen Huston, November 22, 1860. Miss Huston is the daughter of Mrs. Susannah Tullis, who was born in Hamilton county, Ohio, December 21, 1808. Mr. Williamson's house was entirely consumed by fire early on the morning of January 2, 1875, during a furious snow-storm. The family barely escaped, saving but few articles. The origin of the fire was never discovered. Mr. Williamson is one of the very early settlers of Iroquois county, and has experienced the hardships and vicissitudes of frontier life. He saw many Indians. He also witnessed the first hanging in this county, at Bunkum. Mr. Williamson, together with his father and brother, assisted in building Pickerel's horse-mill, at Milford. Two of his sons served through the civil war in the 76th Ind. Vol. These sons were engaged in the battles around Vicksburg, and at Fort Blakeley, and were nearly lost in the steamer Peabody during the passage from New Orleans to Mobile. Many of the incidents related in the history of Milford are furnished by Mr. Williamson. In politics he is a republican.

Hiram Vennum, Milford, farmer, was born in Washington county, Pennsylvania, July 31, 1814. His parents were Thomas and Elizabeth Vennum. His father held the rank of colonel in the war of 1812, and was detailed to serve on a court-martial summoned to try a company of soldiers who were enlisted in his county, and left the field and returned home without being discharged. The family came to Milford in the fall of 1834, and first settled on Sugar creek, where they remained three years. Mr. Thomas Vennum then entered a large tract of land on the prairie in the north part of the township, and their future home was established on "The Mound," lot 8 in the N.W. ¼ of Sec. 2, where Hiram Vennum now resides. Mr. Vennum was married March, 1844, to Miss Nancy Wagner. Many of the details of the early history of Milford are furnished by Mr. Vennum. He has been intimately connected with the events that have transpired during his long residence here. Mr. Vennum's parents and many relatives now lie buried in the graveyard west of Mr. Vennum's house. Mr. Vennum is still in the enjoyment of good health. He says that he never used liquor or tobacco in any form, nor ever played a game of chance in his life.

Robert Nilson, Milford, farmer, son of John and Susanna Nilson, was born in Brown county, Ohio, September 20, 1817. His father served

STOCKLAND TOWNSHIP.

This township was formerly called Crab Apple, from a large grove of trees situated in the eastern part, and which at that time constituted the greatest continuous extent of timber in it, its estimated area being 70 acres. This grove was largely composed of crab-apple trees; hence the name had attached to the locality long prior to any township organization. Just when the change of name was effected, or why it was done, does not clearly appear. The records of the township give no account of proceedings which led to the change. Suffice it to say, the first record in which the name occurs is dated March 28, 1865, and as the previous entry is dated in the spring of 1864, and the name crab-apple is there used, it is presumed that the change was made at some time during the year 1864, or between the dates above mentioned. The reason for the change is quite as difficult to determine, owing perhaps to a disinclination on the part of the originators of the movement to expose any of their own little weaknesses or foibles. However this may be, or whoever may have been instrumental in bringing about so desirable a change, it seems that the name crab-apple was disliked, as conveying an erroneous idea of the character of the people; for whoever else may be crabbed or sour in disposition, most certainly the people of this township are not, as your historian can abundantly testify. Upon the question of a new name a great difference of opinion was manifested, until at length the name "Stockland" was suggested, and was at once adopted.

Stockland is situated in the southeastern part of Iroquois county, and is bounded on the north by Sheldon, on the east by the Indiana state line, on the south by Prairie Green, and on the west by Milford. The political township contains more than a congressional township, inasmuch as a narrow strip, extending along the east side, between the congressional township and state line, is attached for township purposes. Stockland may be further described as composed of township 25 north, range 11 west, and of fractional township 25 north, range 10 west of the second principal meridian. The same discrepancies in regard to irregular surveys exist in this as in other townships lying west of it, and as this matter has been fully explained in the history of Milford, it is here omitted.

EARLY HISTORY.

The first settlement in what is now the township of Stockland was made by Samuel Williamson, who settled in Crab Apple Grove in March, 1832. Mr. Williamson had previously removed from Ohio to Indiana, but not liking the country he sought a healthier climate, and finally located in this township. At that time there were no settlements on the west nearer than those on Sugar creek in Milford, and the nearest neighbors on the east were from six to ten miles distant. Soon after coming, Mr. Williamson entered a quarter-section of land, and commenced making improvements, partly upon his own and partly upon adjoining government land, which he intended to enter as soon as he could obtain the necessary means. His son, B. P. Williamson, also entered a quarter-section, partially adjoining his father's, and he too, in connection with his father, worked on the same government tract. It may be stated here, that this design was frustrated by another party afterward stepping in and entering the land, thus securing the benefit of their labors. A year or two after, another son, Philip, came with his family and joined his father. Mr. Williamson and his sons continued to reside on these lands until 1850, when the entire property was sold to Mr. Sumner. B. P. Williamson removed to and commenced operations on the farm he now occupies, while his father and brother located themselves some distance east of his place.

Father of Bethuel P. Williamson

In the fall of 1835 Thomas Wallace moved into the country. He first settled in an adjoining township and raised one crop, when he entered and located upon the southwest quarter of section 17. Mr. Wallace was born in Virginia, February 20, 1800, and with his parents removed to Ohio, where he was married. He afterward came to this county with his family, as above stated. On this land he built a log house, in which he continued to reside until it was destroyed by fire. He then built a frame house, which is still standing, although the property has passed into other hands. When Mr. Wallace first came to this county, he says that he went to Bunkum to vote, and that some ten or twelve votes were cast at that election. He also owned a surveyor's compass and chain, and was often employed by new settlers in running out the lines of their several tracts of land; and is said to have surveyed in this way more than a township of land. He assisted William Pickerel in laying out the village of Milford. He also frequently drove a team to Chicago and to LaFayette. The burning of Wallace's log house was probably the first fire that ever occurred in this region, if not in the county. Mr. Wallace had five children. It was in this house that his wife, Jemima, died. The loss of his wife seemed to prey upon his mind to such an extent as to impel him to be constantly roving, as he afterward spent much of his time in hunting, and manifested no disposition to attend to troops, to be thirteen. An amount of money ($800) was raised to pay bounties to volunteers, and the men were provided. This money had been obtained upon the joint note of J. H. Jones, A. J. Stevens, Thomas Wallace, Robert Miller, Philip White, James Williams and Milton De Armond, dated February 23, 1865. At the town meeting held April 4, 1865, an ordinance was passed voting the necessary amount to pay the principal and accrued interest of this note. A very large number had also enlisted at different times during the war; some of them fill soldiers' graves.

At a meeting held May 14, 1867, a vote was taken on the question of extending aid in the construction of the Chicago, Danville & Vincennes railway. The vote stood eighty-one in favor of, to three against. The amount of aid afforded was $6,750. To the honor of Stockland be it said that this amount was paid in full, and that, too, while it was understood or expected that this road would run through Stockland, it did not in its construction touch any part of it. Few towns can show so clear a record. The town is entirely free from debt.

The town meetings for several years were held at the Gothic school-house. Afterward they were changed to the Vienna school-house. This school-house has been nicknamed "Hard Scrabble," probably from the number of squabbles that have occurred within its classic precincts. The township is divided into nine road districts.

INCIDENTS.

Perhaps there is no place that is entirely free from incidents of a character tragic or otherwise; yet the peaceful advancement of the people of this township has been seldom disturbed by terrors or mishaps. What few incidents have occurred are here given. The first fire that probably took place was the burning of Thomas Wallace's house with all its contents, already mentioned. Samuel Neiswonger's house, in the north part of the township, was burned in February, 1878, with a large portion of its contents; also in this year, one or two tenement houses on Ed. Sumner's land. Samuel Nolin's house was entirely consumed, with its contents, on the morning of January 12, 1859.

In 1866 the northern part of Stockland was swept by a tornado, which came from the southwest and pursued a northeasterly course. Samuel Unger's house was the only one injured. It was carried 32 feet and left in a badly twisted condition; everything in the house was broken. The family were carried with the house, but escaped serious injury. The stable was demolished and all the fences carried fourteen years. The parents died in Ohio. Mr. Hamilton was married, December 25, 1845, to Miss Susan Hubbell. They have three sons and one daughter. The daughter is married. In 1847 the family came to Attica, Indiana, where they lived three years. In 1850 Mr. Hamilton removed to Iroquois county and settled in Loda, and in 1878 came to Stockland. Mr. Hamilton is by trade a ship-carpenter. He worked in Toledo and Attica. He finally abandoned his trade and has since devoted himself to farming. Mr. Hamilton is a republican. Mrs. Hamilton is a member of the Christian church.

MARTINTON TOWNSHIP.

Martinton occupies a position in the center of the northeast quarter of the county, having Papineau on its northern boundary, Beaver on its eastern, Middleport and Iroquois townships on its southern, and the Iroquois river on its western boundary, and contains all of town 28, range 12 west of the 2d principal meridian, and all lying east of the river, (being about one-half) of town 28, range 13. The Chicago & Eastern Illinois railroad passes from north to south nearly through its center, having the station of Martinton on it; and the Cincinnati, La Fayette & Chicago railroad runs by the northeastern corner of the town, giving to its citizens the benefit of Chicago, Cincinnati and eastern markets by two railroads, which in their very nature cannot combine and "pool" their earnings from this vicinity. The soil is chiefly the fertile sandy loam common along the Iroquois river. Originally nearly one-third of its surface was covered with timber. Along its western portion the timber along the river, extending about two miles back from the stream and along Pike creek, was heavy, and was drawn on for fencing, building and fuel, as it still is. For several miles along its eastern side, Bean's Grove stretched out, affording hospitable shelter for those pioneers who there made their homes. Until the building of the two roads referred to the farms here were distant from market, and this distance was a serious drawback to the cultivation of the land, but it was a favorite grazing-ground for those who were looking to the raising of cattle. With the increased railroad facilities, however, the land came rapidly into more complete cultivation, and the free system of drainage adopted is fast reclaiming even those portions which were supposed to be impossible to cultivate.

The first settlers in the township are believed to have been those who came to Bean's Grove and put up their cabins along from 1833 to 1840. As they are nearly all gone now and their places supplied by others, the dates of their coming and going can only be approximately determined. The writer is under obligations for such information to Mr. Bean, of Donovan. Aaron Rush is believed to have been the first of these, and must have arrived here about 1833. He resided here nearly forty years. He removed to Wisconsin about 1873, and died there. A son lives at Watseka, and a daughter, Mrs. Green, lives here yet. Mr. Cottrel, who came soon after, removed to near Watseka, twenty-five years ago, and his family went to Iowa and Kansas. Benjamin King, who came here soon after, returned to Indiana and died there. James Williams was another early settler. He went to Wisconsin with his family many years ago.

E. M. Hammond, who came about 1836, died here some fifteen years since. His son, Charles, resides on the place yet. Jones Green died on the place which he early took up, about 1854. His widow lives on the place. His son, Sidney, lives near, and daughters, Mrs. Gillaspie and Mrs. Sherill, in Watseka. Mr. Gillaspie, who was another of the pioneers, died on the place where his family still lives. John Merrily still lives on the farm which he early reduced from its wild condition, though his family, except one son, have all died: Mr. Edwards moved many years ago to Momence, and from there to Bourbonnais, where he followed the occupation of milling. Further west from the Bean's Grove settlement, and just on the south line of the township, old man Floyd, as he is still called, built a shanty near where the Van Meeter house now stands, about 1845, and lived in it some years.

Thomas Yates, known all over this end of the state of Illinois as one of the cattle kings of the west, was one of the first settlers in the western portion of Martinton. He and his father had subdued the land lying south of L'Erable, over on the west side of the Iroquois, and covered it over with good graded cattle and sheep, early in the forties. Becoming crowded there (John Wilson on the south, Thomes Stump on the west, and Peter Spink on the north, each two miles away) he sold to Mr. Ayres, and crossed over the Jordan (Iroquois), where he could have room to spread and keep a few hundred head of cattle. With a constitutional tendency to scatter, he ranged all over this side of the river, and is now in Iroquois township. John Scoon settled where he now lives, a few years later. He had a large family of children.

For a long time these three pioneers, Yates, Bryant and Scoon, were the only residents in this part of Martinton. They had no school except as they sent their children across the river on the ice or in small boats, and so far as roads, bridges, and other conveniences of civilization were concerned, they might as well have been the only

Mr. William Biddle
PO Box 241
High Ridge, MO 63049

Dear Mr. Biddle:

Your name was given to me by Mrs. Phyllis Hackleman recently when I called her with some questions about the genealogy of the Williams family. She stated that you have done research work on the background of that family and that you are a Williams descendant. I am a descendant of Samuel WILLIAMS (ca1785-1839) and his wife Susanna (HACKLEMAN) WILLIAMS of Warren County, Indiana. My gr. gr. grandmother was their daughter, Mary, who married James SMITH of Benton County.

I am enclosing copies of several pages of my research notes that will explain the extent of my knowledge about Samuel.and his children. I am assuming that you have seen a copy of Mrs. Hackleman's book or at least a copy of her information on Samuel and his family. I contributed some of my family information to the book, but I'm afraid that several mistakes were made, either because of my poor handwriting and typing, or in her transcription. ~~I am including a corrected page~~. I have decided to do a good rewrite which I will send you later if you are interested.

Early in my research on Samuel, I was sent a family page listing his children, but there was no indication of who had compiled it. I, however, sent copies on to Mrs. Hackleman. She obviously had other information and combined this all together. After the book was completed, I still had a number of questions about the information given on Page 61 of her book , but didn't seem to make any headway in answering any of them myself.

1. Is there any connection between Samuel WILLIAMS and Jacob HACKLEMAN's second wife, Mary Ann WILLIAMS? Is she the Mary Ann WILLIAMS listed in the 1820 census in Harrison Twp., Fayette County, IN, which is the same township where Samuel lived? Are they mother and son? Are John and Milbourne also listed there two other sons? Who was Mary Ann's husband?

2. The photograph of the HACKLEMAN Bible on page 30 shows a faint notation for a Jeremiah WILLIAMS who died in 1812. Was this Mary Ann's husband or father? Who were the others?

Last week, my husband and I were in Warren County, Indiana. We looked through property and tax records and also some of the guardianship papers drawn up after Samuel's death. My previous information on Samuel was very sketchy and this helped a little. It also confirmed the names of some of the children and added the possibility of another, a Jeremiah WILLIAMS who had a wife Martha. Although we did not have time to go through all of the available material, I hope to do so in the future.

We also stopped in Newton County and obtained a copy of Addison WILLIAMS' death certificate. Addison was one of Samuel's sons. On the 1900 census, Addison had listed his father's birthplace as England and I wanted to confirm this since I had always assumed that he was from South Carolina as were the HACKLEMANS. However, in the death ledger book in Newton County, Samuel's birthplace was listed as Wales.

I would appreciate any information that you could give me on my first two sets of questions and also a corrected list of Samuel's children. In addition, how much is known about brothers and sisters of Samuel? I have some information on all of Mary (WILLIAMS) SMITH's children and quite a bit for her daughter, Sarah Elizabeth (SMITH) PERIGO, who was my great-grandmother and I will be willing to share any of this information with you.

I do not know of anyone else who is working on Samuel's family with the exception of Sharon (THOMAS) WILLIAMS of Cincinnati. She is my cousin's daughter and has about the same information as I have since we have been sharing for a number of years. I have no idea of the background of her husband's WILLIAMS family.

Thank you for any help that you can give me.

Sincerely yours,

Marjorie A. Cooke

Mrs. Marjorie A. Cooke

I again spoke to Mrs Hackleman and she added the information that you also were a descendant of Samuel Williams, but from a nother marriage. I guess that I am completely confused. She also said that you are writing a book on the Williams family. How much do you have on Mary (dau of Samuel) and James Smith? I would like to talk to you on the telephone about all of this

Adams county, Ohio, August 14, 1824. With his brothers, his boyhood days were passed amid the privations and alarms incident to frontier life. While his brothers became heads of families, Asa seemed to be designated as the one to remain at home and care for the aged father. Consequently he married much later in life than his brothers. He was married July 14, 1867, to Mary Jane Bragg, and continues to reside quietly among scenes made memorable by the incidents of former years. Mr. Thomas is a republican, and has always manifested a strong interest in local affairs.

Benjamin F. Thomas, farmer, Milford, son of Asa and Eleanor Thomas, was born in Wehaw Plains, Indiana, May 20, 1830. The Thomas' settlement in Milford township is fully described in the history of that town. He was one of the children carried away in the flight that occurred on the supposed advance of hostile Indians. Mr. Thomas has lived in this town since very early childhood, and from him are derived many of the early reminiscences, particularly the description of the "ancient" log school-house, given in the same history. He located on section 4, where he now resides. Mr. Thomas was married to Miss Amanda A. Hoover, March 11, 1858, who died December 5, 1874. His brother Fantleyroy was killed at the Raymond, near Vicksburg, after having served three years in the 20th Ill. Vol., without a scratch. Mr. Thomas is a republican, and also a Master Mason, having served as Master of Milford Lodge. He has always been a pronounced temperance man.

Samuel Thomas, farmer, Milford, son of Asa Thomas, the original settler in this township, was born October 30, 1826, in Adams county, Ohio. He came to Illinois with his father's family in 1831, where he has since resided. Mr. Thomas has been twice married. His first wife was Catherine Pankake, to whom he was married December 23, 1850. In November, 1858, he married Maria L. Lewis, with whom he is still living. Many of the incidents contained in the early history of Milford township are furnished by Mr. Thomas. He was an eye-witness of all that he relates, and the early history of Milford is a record of the Thomas family since 1831. Mr. Thomas is a republican.

Bethuel P. Williamson, farmer, Milford, son of Samuel and Sarah Williamson, was born in Adams county, Ohio, April 7, 1816. Mr. Williamson's grandfather manufactured gunpowder for the American army during the American revolution. For this powder he received his pay in Continental money, and in the financial collapse at the close of the war he lost the avails of his seven years' work. Mr. Williamson's father served in the war of 1812, under McArthur, and was present when Flynn and Coy were murdered by Indians. He was one of the scouts sent after the Indians. The family removed to Fountain county, Indiana, in 1825, where they remained seven years. They then came to Iroquois county and settled in Crab Apple, where they remained seventeen years. The father died in Belmont. Mr. Williamson continued with his father until his marriage, in 1840, to Miss Margaret Williams. His second wife was Ellen Kelley. He was married to his third wife, Miss Ellen Huston, November 22, 1860. Miss Huston is the daughter of Mrs. Susannah Tullis, who was born in Hamilton county, Ohio, December 21, 1808. Mr. Williamson's house was entirely consumed by fire early on the morning of January 2, 1875, during a furious snow-storm. The family barely escaped, saving but few articles. The origin of the fire was never discovered. Mr. Williamson is one of the very early settlers of Iroquois county, and has experienced the hardships and vicissitudes of frontier life. He saw many Indians. He also witnessed the first hanging in this county, at Bunkum. Mr. Williamson, together with his father and brother, assisted in building Pickerel's horse-mill, at Milford. Two of his sons served through the civil war in the 76th Ind. Vol. These sons were engaged in the battles around Vicksburg, and at Fort Blakeley, and were nearly lost in the steamer Peabody during the passage from New Orleans to Mobile. Many of the incidents related in the history of Milford are furnished by Mr. Williamson. In politics he is a republican.

Hiram Vennum, Milford, farmer, was born in Washington county, Pennsylvania, July 31, 1814. His parents were Thomas and Elizabeth Vennum. His father held the rank of colonel in the war of 1812, and was detailed to serve on a court-martial summoned to try a company of soldiers who were enlisted in his county, and left the field and returned home without being discharged. The family came to Milford in the fall of 1834, and first settled on Sugar creek, where they remained three years. Mr. Thomas Vennum then entered a large tract of land on the prairie in the north part of the township, and their future home was established on "The Mound," lot 8 in the N.W. ¼ of Sec. 2, where Hiram Vennum now resides. Mr. Vennum was married March, 1844, to Miss Nancy Wagner. Many of the details of the early history of Milford are furnished by Mr. Vennum. He has been intimately connected with the events that have transpired during his long residence here. Mr. Vennum's parents and many relatives now lie buried in the graveyard west of Mr. Vennum's house. Mr. Vennum is still in the enjoyment of good health. He says that he never used liquor or tobacco in any form, nor ever played a game of chance in his life.

Robert Nilson, Milford, farmer, son of John and Susanna Nilson, was born in Brown county, Ohio, September 20, 1817. His father served nor town within the limits of Prairie Green: nor does any railroad cross its territory, yet the shadow of a railroad debt falls over the land. Prairie Green is mostly tributary to Wellington, a small town on the Chicago & Eastern Illinois railway about one mile and a half west, yet this township has some institutions that would do credit to much older and more favored communities. These institutions are due to the genius and enterprise of several unmarried young men in the northeast part of the town.

First, there is the Prairie Green Glee Club, under the leadership of R. G. Cowan, an institution of great merit and long standing, comprising nearly a dozen voices, all above mediocrity.

The Prairie Green Dramatic Troupe was organized in October, 1876, and contains twelve members who all rank high in histrionic talent. This company has played for various charitable and public purposes, and each time has received the highest encomiums of both public and press. The officers are: Stage manager, R. M. Denholm; treasurer, H. W. Cowan; secretary, E. J. Cody.

The Prairie Green Quadrille Band, an association organized in 1879, now numbers twelve instruments: Three first violins, two second violins, three German flutes, two flageolets, and two violoncellos. This orchestra has met with an enthusiastic reception at all performances where it has taken a part. Its leader is R. G. Cowan; vice, H. Crowther; treasurer, John Cowan; secretary, R. M. Denholm.

The Round Top Silver Fife Band, as an organization, dates from October, 1879, and numbers twelve fifes, two drums and a triangle. The boys have made rapid progress under their able leader, and promise to be an interesting feature at future public and political gatherings. Leader, R. G. Cowan; vice, H. W. Cowan; treasurer, E. J. Cody; secretary, R. M. Denholm.

The Trego Blue Ribbon Society was organized in the winter of 1878, under the lecturing of Mrs. Trego, and numbers over 200 members. It meets once every week. It maintains its interest unabated.

The schools of Prairie Green are in the front rank among the educational interests of the county. The township was organized into four school districts about the year 1858. Lamont and Prairie Green school-houses were built soon after. Round Top was not built for some years after these two, but has become more famous than all the others. It was so named on account of the roof which covered the building, having the appearance of being round at a distance, although the house was really an octagon in shape, and the roof eight-sided. The foregoing institutions that have been named, all had their birth in and about old Round Top. There are now seven schools in the township, all well attended and under the charge of competent teachers.

The school fund of the township amounts to the handsome sum of nearly $12,000.

While speaking of the institutions of Prairie Green we must not omit the broom factory of Robert Finch, of which his son Fremont is superintendent and working force. The low price of broom-corn for the last few years induced Mr. Finch to try manufacturing. Out of his crop of 1879 he will make about 350 dozen brooms. The use of tools coming nearly as handy to Fremont Finch as the use of his hands, he made his own broom machine, learned the trade in a few days, and is now an expert broom-maker.

The religious history of Prairie Green is perhaps similar to that of all other newly settled communities. A Methodist class was formed at Abner Mitchell's early in 1858. There was preaching around at houses, and after the school-houses were built meetings were held in them. Nearly every winter revivals of great interest would take place in these school-houses. Some of these first Methodist preachers did not turn out very well, however. The class at Mitchell's died out in a few years.

There is a small society of the United Brethren at Willow Brook school-house, and a prosperous Methodist class at Maple Grove (formerly Round Top) school-house. This is under the ministration of Rev. J. D. Calhoun, of Wellington circuit. There is a splendid Sunday school connected with this society. J. W. Dixon has been superintendent since its permanent organization in April, 1878, and M. Garrison, secretary. The greatest interest is kept up at all seasons of the year, and the school is well supported by regular weekly contributions. The average attendance is about seventy-five.

Christian chapel is the only church edifice in the township. It stands on section 12, and was built a few years ago at a cost of about $1,000. J. J. Robb, D. Smalley, B. P. Cowan and J. B. Ferrand gave liberally to aid in its construction. Its size is 30×40, and it is a neat and substantial structure, and is owned by the Christian society of the neighborhood, some of the members living in Indiana.

STOCKLAND TOWNSHIP.

This township was formerly called Crab Apple, from a large grove of trees situated in the eastern part, and which at that time constituted the greatest continuous extent of timber in it, its estimated area being 70 acres. This grove was largely composed of crab-apple trees; hence the name had attached to the locality long prior to any township organization. Just when the change of name was effected, or why it was done, does not clearly appear. The records of the township give no account of proceedings which led to the change. Suffice it to say, the first record in which the name occurs is dated March 28, 1865, and as the previous entry is dated in the spring of 1864, and the name crab-apple is there used, it is presumed that the change was made at some time during the year 1864, or between the dates above mentioned. The reason for the change is quite as difficult to determine, owing perhaps to a disinclination on the part of the originators of the movement to expose any of their own little weaknesses or foibles. However this may be, or whoever may have been instrumental in bringing about so desirable a change, it seems that the name crab-apple was disliked, as conveying an erroneous idea of the character of the people; for whoever else may be crabbed or sour in disposition, most certainly the people of this township are not, as your historian can abundantly testify. Upon the question of a new name a great difference of opinion was manifested, until at length the name "Stockland" was suggested, and was at once adopted.

Stockland is situated in the southeastern part of Iroquois county, and is bounded on the north by Sheldon, on the east by the Indiana state line, on the south by Prairie Green, and on the west by Milford. The political township contains more than a congressional township, inasmuch as a narrow strip, extending along the east side, between the congressional township and state line, is attached for township purposes. Stockland may be further described as composed of township 25 north, range 11 west, and of fractional township 25 north, range 10 west of the second principal meridian. [illegible] discrepancies in regard to irregular surveys exist in this as in other townships lying west of it, and as this matter has been fully explained in the history of Milford, it is here omitted.

EARLY HISTORY.

The first settlement in what is now the township of Stockland was made by Samuel Williamson, who settled in Crab Apple Grove troops, to be thirteen. An amount of money ($800) was raised to pay bounties to volunteers, and the men were provided. This money had been obtained upon the joint note of J. H. Jones, A. J. Stevens, Thomas Wallace, Robert Miller, Philip White, James Williams and Milton De Armond, dated February 23, 1865. At the town meeting held April 4, 1865, an ordinance was passed voting the necessary amount to pay the principal and accrued interest of this note. A very large number had also enlisted at different times during the war; some of them fill soldiers' graves.

M. MARTHA STOCKS

At a meeting held May 14, 1867, a vote was taken on the question of extending aid in the construction of the Chicago, Danville & Vincennes railway. The vote stood eighty-one in favor of, to three against. The amount of aid afforded was $6,750. To the honor of Stockland be it said that this amount was paid in full, and that, too, while it was understood or expected that this road would run through Stockland, it did not in its construction touch any part of it. Few towns can show so clear a record. The town is entirely free from debt.

The town meetings for several years were held at the Gothic school-house. Afterward they were changed to the Vienna school-house. This school-house has been nicknamed "Hard Scrabble," probably from the number of squabbles that have occurred within its classic precincts. The township is divided into nine road districts.

INCIDENTS.

Perhaps there is no place that is entirely free from incidents of a character tragic or otherwise; yet the peaceful advancement of the people of this township has been seldom disturbed by terrors or mishaps. What few incidents have occurred are here given. The first fire that probably took place was the burning of Thomas Wallace's house with all its contents, already mentioned. Samuel Neiswonger's house, in the north part of the township, was burned in February, 1878, with a large portion of its contents; also in this year, one or two tenement houses on Ed. Sumner's land. Samuel Nolin's house was entirely consumed, with its contents, on the morning of January 12, 1859.

In 1866 the northern part of Stockland was swept by a tornado, which came from the southwest and pursued a northeasterly course. Samuel Unger's house was the only one injured. It was carried 32 feet and left in a badly twisted condition; everything in the house was broken. The family were carried with the house, but escaped serious injury. The stable was demolished and all the fences carried away. On learning of his misfortune the neighbors at once assembled, and their united efforts soon replaced the house on its original foundation. It was repaired and reoccupied.

In April, 1876, a young man in the employ of Mr. S. A. Jones took occasion to hang himself in an old barn. No cause was known for the commission of the rash act.

CHURCHES.

The first religious society organized was a class of United Brethren, in 1853. Previous to this time no regular religious services had been held in the township. Occasional preaching was had; among others, Rev. D. Brown, of Warren county, Indiana, had sometimes visited the people. The first United Brethren preacher who officiated statedly was Rev. Mr. Kite. In 1859 this society succeeded in erecting a house for public worship, at an expense of about $1,000. This building has since been known as Sugar Creek Chapel. It is situated on the left bank of Sugar creek, near where it is crossed by the state road, in the south half of section 17. A Sabbath school is maintained in connection with this church.

The only other church edifice in Stockland is the Antioch Christian Chapel, situated near the township line in the extreme northwest corner of section 31. This society was organized in March, 1861, just four weeks before the firing on Fort Sumter. The meetings were held in the Gothic school-house until the society were able to erect a house. This was done in the summer of 1867, at a cost of nearly $1,600. Rev. C. B. Austin was the first pastor.

Besides these two societies, there was a considerable number of people who were members of the M. E. church. Most of them were without special church privileges. Revs. Irwin and Ackerman, from the Onarga district, had held occasional meetings, and at one time had organized a class. These preachers were, indeed, assigned to Ash Grove, but hearing that a number of Methodists were scattered about this and adjoining townships, had come hither and held meetings in a school-house in Prairie Green, near the town line, for nearly two years. After the Gothic school-house was built, these meetings were removed there, and the class formed at one time numbered about 60 members. Of this number, it is worthy of remark, five were afterward licensed as local preachers; four of them are still engaged as such: Joseph McLean, William Shawyer, David Prutzman and Zimri Hobson. This society was afterward scattered, through a combination of circumstances, and the class discontinued; several of them are now connected with the class at Milford. At store, and while he was peeping round the door-check to witness the explosion, the powder ignited, sent the plug against the door-facing in front of him, shivering it to pieces, knocking out a log of the house, smashing his crockery, and well nigh using up the proprietor. By noon the country people for many miles around flocked in to see the steamer that carried such heavy ordnance, and on learning that Mr. Smith was convalescent, and his cat Mouser safe, returned to their homes in the evening, satisfied that they were hoaxed again! (Old Settlers By Sandford C. Cox page 24)

As early as 1829 or 30 William Smith moved out into what was then the wilderness of Mud Pine, building himself a log cabin some forty or fifty rods east of what is now the Smith Cemetery. He was present at the land sales at Crawfordsville on 23 October 1832, he entered a total of 240 acres. He served on the first petit jury ever called in Benton Co., Indiana at the November Term, 1840. He was a man of honor and respected by all who knew him. In a new country his services as a citizen were invaluable, and much might have been expected of him had he lived a longer life. Having no opportunities for an education himself--such a thing as a common school system then being unknown--he employed John Gass to instruct his children in the summer and fall of 1841. (History Of Benton Co., Indiana By Elmore Barce and Ray Jones Vol. II pages 7 & 10).

William married first Sarah Sprague, born 1788 parents and birthplace still unknown; she died 27 August 1840; he married second Susannah Williams (I beleived she was Susannah Hackleman widow of Samuel Williams, mother of Mary Williams) 25 September 1841 (Warren Co., Ind. marriage records Book I page 7) His son James and her daughter Mary were married 23 or 25 September 1841. He died 26 December 1842; buried Smith Cemetery Benton Co. Indiana.

time to the duties of his office and is giving entire satisfaction as postmaster.

Mr. Cravens has a genial disposition and a kindly way that wins and retains friends. He is noted for his unselfish charity, and has helped many deserving young people to obtain a start in life. In the mind of the writer the ideals of Mr. Cravens are embodied in the following poem:

WHAT I LIVE FOR.

I live for those who love me,
  For those I know are true,
For the heaven that smiles above me
  And awaits my spirit, too;
For the human ties that bind me,
For the task by God assigned me,
For the bright hopes left behind me,
  And the good that I can do.

I live to learn their story
  Who have suffered for my sake,
To emulate their glory,
  And follow in their wake—
Bards, martyrs, patriots, sages,
The people of all ages,
Whose deeds crown history's pages
  And time's great volume make.

I live to hail the season
  By gifted minds foretold,
When man shall rule by reason,
  And not alone by gold;
When man to man united,
And every wrong thing righted,
The whole world shall be lighted
As Eden was of old.

I live to hold communion
  With all that is divine,
To feel there is a union
  'Twixt nature's heart and mine,
To profit by affliction,
Reap truth from fields of fiction,
Grow wiser from conviction,
  And fulfill each grand design.

I live for those who love me,
  For those who know me true,
For the heaven that smiles above me
  And awaits my spirit, too;
For the wrongs that need resistance,
For the cause that lacks assistance,
For the future in the distance,
  And the good that I can do.

Ain't God Good To Indiana?

Ain't God good to Indiana?
Folks, a feller never knows
Just how close he is to Eden
Till, sometimes, he ups and goes
Seekin' fairer, greener pastures
Than he has right here at home,
Where there's sunshine in th' clover
An' there's honey in th' comb;
Where th' ripples on th' river
Kind o' chuckle as they flow—
Ain't God good to Indiana?
Ain't He, fellers? Ain't He though?

Ain't God good to Indiana?
Seems to me He has a way
Gittin' me all out o' humor
Just to see how long I'll stay
When I get the gipsy-feelin
That I'd like to find a spot
Where th' clouds ain't quite so reckless,
Or th' sun don't shine as hot;
But I don't go far, I'll tell you,
Till I'm whisperin' soft an' low;
Ain't God good to Indiana?
Ain't He, fellers? Ain't He though?

Ain't God good to Indiana?
Other spots may look as fair,
But they lack th' soothin' somethin'
In th' Hoosier sky an' air.
They don't have that snug-up feelin'
Like a mother gives a child;
They don't soothe your soul an' body,
With their breezes soft an' mild.
They don't know th' joys o' heaven
Have their birthplace here below:
Ain't God good to Indiana?
Ain't He, fellers? Ain't He though?

Benton County

FOWLER, INDIANA 1840 - 1976

Benton County was organized in the year of 1840 and was named after homas H. Benton, United States Senator.

Benton County is bounded on the north by Newton and Jasper counties; n the east by White and Tippecanoe; on the south by Warren and on the est by the State of Illinois. Fowler is the County Seat. From east o west the county measures twenty-three miles and from north to south ighteen miles. It is divided into eleven townships. It is an agri-ultural county with good fertile soil. The main crops raised are orn, soy beans, wheat and oats. Many beef cattle and hogs are also aised. Benton County farms are now selling up to $2400 per acre.

The first session of the Benton Circuit Court was held in November 840 in a two-room home east of what is now Justus Cemetery in Oxford. he first courthouse was a wooden building built in 1843 on the north ide of the square in Oxford. A new brick courthouse was built in xford in 1855 at a cost of $7,212. It was razed in 1874. The new ourthouse in Fowler was started in 1873 and the construction was ompleted in 1874. Moses Fowler and Adams Earl donated $40,000 to uild the courthouse and the total cost was $62,280, part of the cost as for hauling in dirt by wagon to fill in the lawn.

There is a large olympic ize swimming pool and 18 hole golf course at Academy Park in Oxford; swimming pool, golf course and park at Fowler and a County Fair Grounds ith buildings and race track at Boswell.

Benton County has an active Bi-Centennial Organization with head-uarters in downtown Fowler. They have had a Bi-Centennial Ball and a i-Centennial basket ball tournament.

Dear Beulah,

Just thought I'd bring you up to date on what we've found in our family tree climb and try to answer some of the questions you had in your letter to Mom.

I don't have quite all the dates, etc. filled out for Mom's family or hers grandparents' families. I can send those to you later if you're interested. I don't have much at all on the Southard side - just to Mamie's parents, David and Nancy Odle Southard. I don't have any information on where the Southard's come from, but in tracing the Odles, found some informatio on Nancy's family. Her parents were Thomas D. Odle (born in Ross Co. Ohio April 2, 1818; died April 3, 1894) and Nancy Brown (born March 14, 1823; died Sept. 27, 1845). They are both buried in Pine Village cemetery as are David and Nancy Southard. Thomas Odle had 4 children with Nancy Brown, then married again and had 10 more children (one of which was my great-grandpa Odle). Going on back the Odle side we have information putting them in Ohio, before that in Virginia, and before that in Maryland in 1764. The name change seems to have occurred between Nancy's great-grandfather Richard Odle and her great-great-grandfath William Odell (Odle).

The Williams side is more complete-

(2-) at least part of the branches. Elmer's father's parents were Jeremiah Williams and Martha Morphew, but that's as far as I have. Elmer's mother's parents were William Coats and Elizabeth Kearns. The Kearns' I have traced back to County Down, Ireland at the time of the Revolutionary War. The Coats' were from England, but came to Indiana from Kansas according to what I have.

It doesn't take long for all of this to make my head start spinning, so I hope you can unscramble what I've written. I'd love to have copies of the information you have, too. Maybe we can even get together sometime to compare / complete our charts. Frankie said you're working on a lead on the Southards. I'll be interested to hear what you find out. Mom thought maybe Aunt Mary had some information down, so hopefully we can make it to see Velma Auter soon.

I hear you were able to see Grandma in her "colorful glory". Mom went down on Monday and made her go to the doctor. Everything seems to be okay. We saw her yesterday and her bruises are fading quickly.

Hope this information is helpful. And I hope we can get in touch soon.

Yours truly,
Teresa

Kernan also has been an ardent supporter of the Airport 2010 economic development project, which he calls, "the most important economic development project in this community today because it brings together so many community strengths in one location."

The project, planned for a 2,300-acre site north of Michiana Regional Airport, would combine office, light industrial and commercial activity. The development is to take place over the next 20 years.

Kernan said Airport 2010 will be similar to the Edison Lakes complex in Mishawaka, only with a toll road, a bypass, an airport and a golf course. "I think it's a unique project in the Midwest," Kernan said.

Democrats Dona Lynn Hall and George M. Heiner Jr. are battling for their party's mayoral nomination in Tuesday's primary election, while incumbent Republican Mayor Robert C. Beutter has no opposition.

Tuesday's election marks the first time Hall and Heiner have run for political office. Beutter is seeking his third term as mayor.

Beutter sees the construction of the new Union Street Fire Station and Emergency Medical Services Station on Mishawaka Avenue as two critical improvements in the city's public safety system.

Improved communications among the departments has taken place with the installation of a new 800-megahertz communications system, Beutter said.

He said the new stations and communications system have enabled the city to improve fire and ambulance service.

Completing those major public safety projects now allows the administration to move on to other projects, like upgrading equipment used by many city departments, according to Beutter.

Topping that list, Beutter said, is the need to improve Street Department trucks, some of which are a decade old.

And although Beutter has been criticized by Heiner for not attracting enough industry to the city, Beutter argues there has been much growth among the city's smaller industrial companies.

Expansions at Dodge Division of Reliance Electric Co., Janco Products Inc. and Thermoplastics Inc. are indications that city industries are being maintained, Beutter said.

"Everybody wants to bring in the company with 2,000 employees, but that's not going to happen," Beutter said.

Beutter said the city is doing the things that help to attract businesses.

He said companies looking for a "high quality of life" can find it here in the city's neighborhoods, parks, colleges and universities. Beutter added the city's water capacity and expanding wastewater treatment plant ensure that businesses wanting to locate here will get adequate services.

established in 1848, and known respectively as "Shawnee Mound" and "Sugar Grove." At the former Jesse Mcharry was appointed postmaster, and at the latter Andrew Insley. In 1871 Odell postoffice was established at Odell's Corners, and in 1877 New Aurora postoffice was established in the north part of the township.

The trustees of Jackson Township since 1859 have been: James V. Dutton, 1859-'63; D. J. Davidson, 1864; G. N. Odell, 1865-'67; C. J. Burns, 1868; C. C. Kirkpatrick, 1869; A. C. McCorkle, 1876-'80; Absalom M. Miller, 1880-'83; Albert J. Arnett, 1884-'87.

RANDOLPH TOWNSHIP.

As early as the year 1828 this township contained the following families: Mr. Buell and family, who settled on the farm since owned and occupied by George W. House, Jr.; Major Rice, who settled on section 10; Judge Wiley, who settled first in the northern part of the township (now Wea), subsequently removing to this neighborhood; Judge Allen, who settled on the land since owned by Dr. Simison; John T. Jack, Mr. McLeod, and William Webster, who settled west of Judge Allen on the same section. Late in the fall of 1828 came George W. House, Sr.

A subscription school was taught in 1826, the school term covering a period of about four months each year.

Among the earliest preachers were Rev. Richard Hargrave and Rev. Samuel Brenton, of the Methodist Episcopal church, and Rev. John Caraban of the Presbyterian church, who conducted services at irregular intervals in the places before mentioned, and until the year 1830 no other accommodations existed. In that year the Methodists erected a building for church purposes at Romney, which they occupied until their increasing numbers rendered the erection of a new edifice necessary. The former building was then succeeded by one more commodious, which in recent years has become the property of the Odd Fellows. In this building they continued to worship until 1878, when a donation of $5,000 was made by George W. House, Jr., for the erection of a handsome edifice.

The first church of the Presbyterian denomination was erected at Romney in 1845 or '46, and placed under the pastoral care of Rev. Briar. Their congregation at that date was quite small, but in the intervening years they have received accessions thereto. Both church and Sunday-school are in a prosperous condition, and success in the good cause has crowned the efforts of their faithful pastors and teachers.

Randolph Lodge, No. 378, I. O. O. F., was organized July 24, 1871, by P. D. G. M. Thomas Underwood, of La Fayette. The charter members were: John W. Dilts, W. S. McClelland, Samuel L. Smock, Sylvanus V. Hedrick, David A. Brenton, George W. Mikels and Thomas J. Mikels. Samuel L. Smock was chosen as the first Noble Grand, and D. A. Brenton, Vice-Grand.

Eudora Lodge, No. 130, Degree of Rebekah, was instituted October 10, 1874, by D. D. G. M. W. O. Crouse, of La Fayette.

Romney is a flourishing village, laid out in 1831 or 1832, by Joseph Halstead, who was the proprietor of the land upon which it is situated. He was the first merchant at this point, having kept a general merchandise store previous to the time of incorporating the town. Among the early merchants of this place were Wm. Throckmorton, John Ryan and Isaac Messick. In 1832, a hotel was built by John Mack, and by him con-established in 1843, and known respectively as "Shawnee Mound" and "Sugar Grove." At the former Jesse Meharry was appointed postmaster, and at the latter Andrew Insley.

In 1871 Odell postoffice was established at Odell's Corners, and in 1877 New Aurora postoffice was established in the north part of the township.

The trustees of Jackson Township since 1858 have been: James V. Dutton, 1859–'63; D. J. Davidson, 1864; G. N. Odell, 1865–'67; C. J. Borum, 1868; C. Q. Kirkpatrick, 1869; A. C. McCorkle, 1876–'80; Absalom M. Miller, 1880–'83; Albert J. Arnett, 1884–'87.

A. Carter was First Lieutenant, and Jerome R. Watson, Second.

The first duty of the regiment was to guard the UnitedStates arsenal at Detroit. Going south, it fought the rebels at Blue Springs, driving them from their position. After constructing fortifications, defending passes, etc., it participated in the battle at Walker's Ford, December 2, 1863. Next, it was engaged in arduous duty in the mountain regions of East Tennessee, during which time the regiment was much reduced by sickness. It was mustered out in February, 1864.

ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY-SIXTH REGIMENT.—ELEVENTH CAVALRY.

Company A, of this regiment, contained a number of men from Tippecanoe County. Isaac L. La Flesh, Captain, was succeeded by Robert H. Martin; George A. Mark, First Lieutenant; and Frank Clemens, Second Lieutenant. The regiment, in the field, was principally engaged in Alabama, Southern Tennessee, etc., in pursuit of Hood, in Missouri, Kansas, etc.

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTY-FIFTH REGIMENT.—100 DAYS.

Eight regiments were raised in Indiana, during the spring of 1864, to serve for 100 days, in conjunction with troops similarly raised in neighboring States, in order to relieve a large number of veterans in the field from garrison and guard duty. Of Company A, William D. Lee was Captain; Cromwell Timmens, First Lieutenant; and John W. Lewis, Second Lieutenant. Of Company D, Leroy W. Greene was Captain; John Underwood, First Lieutenant; and Orin R. Sparks, Second Lieutenant. Of Company G, John B. Wagner was Captain; Henry Mantler, First Lieutenant, and Jacob Miller, Second.

ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTIETH REGIMENT.

December 20, 1864, a call was made for eleven regiments of infantry to serve for one year. One of these was raised from the (then) Eighth Congressional District, and numbered the One Hundred and Fiftieth, with Marsh B. Taylor as Colonel. It was ordered to Harper's Ferry, Virginia, and thence to Charlestown, Winchester, Stevenson Station and Jordan's Springs, where it was mustered out. The most prominent men from this county in the regiment were, besides Colonel Taylor, Adjutant Archibald McCurdy, Chaplain Russell D. Utter, Surgeon Green C. Becks, Assistant Surgeon James P. Wallace; of Company A, Captain Adam O. Behm, First Lieutenant Henry G. Ellsworth and Second Lieutenant Stein G. Orth; of Company B, Captain Charles F Howe, First Lieutenant David E. Earhart, and Second Lieutenant Joseph Burquin; of Company D, Captain Carey M. Lane, First Lieutenant Oliver S. Wooley, and Second Lieutenant Astley C. Jennings; of Company F, Captains John C. Boswell and Matthew A. Berryhill, First Lieutenant Edward W. Pampel, and Second Lieutenant Everett Cawood; and of Company K, Captain Emil H. Langhaus, First Lieutenant William B. Gregory; and Second Lieutenant Jessie D Wallace.

TENTH BATTERY, LIGHT ARTILLERY.

This battery was mustered into service January 25, 1862; on the field it assisted in more modern ones. He has long made a specialty of breeding pure bred Duroc-Jersey hogs, all registered stock. Owing to the superior quality of his fine hogs they are very popular in this part of the county and are greatly admired by all who are interested in fine stock, and they bring a fancy figure whenever offered for sale. He understands well the proper care of hogs and no small part of his annual income is derived from this source. Much credit is due him for bringing to this community a higher grade of swine than it had ever known before.

Mr. Riester was married on November 2, 1879, to Elizabeth Stephens, daughter of William and Catherine Stephens, a highly respected family, who were among the early settlers of this section of Fountain county, and here they, through years of close application and good management, became well established, and here they spent their lives. Mr. Stephens devoted his life to general farming and his death occurred in 1880 on the old home place, which is now owned by the subject of this sketch. He is remembered as a quiet, honest, hard-working man who took little part in the affairs of the county in a political way.

Six children were born to William Stephens and wife, named as follows: Richard, James Newton, M. O., Phoebe, Nancy and Elizabeth, wife of Mr. Riester, of this sketch. Mrs. Riester grew to womanhood in Fountain county and here she received her education in the common schools. Four children have been born to the subject and wife, named as follows: Ella, who married Bert Jones, lives in Van Buren township, this county; Grace Belle married Noah Townsend, and they live in Davis township; Carrie married Albert Miles and they also live in Davis township; Alice married Charles McCauley, of Richland township.

Politically, Mr. Riester is a Democrat, but he has never held political office. Fraternally, he belongs to Tribe No. 144, Improved Order of Red Men, at Mellott. Religiously, he belongs to the United Brethren church.

EDMOND R. MALLORY.

A notable example of the successful, self-made man was the late Edmond R. Mallory, and as such he made his influence felt among the people of Fountain county, where he had spent practically all his life and labored for his own advancement and that of his locality as well, thereby earning the right to be classed among the leading citizens of his day in the community honored by

YOUR FAMILY TREE

WHERE DO YOU BEGIN? Begin with yourself. Always proceed from the present to the past. Record your name, place and date of birth, marriage and residence. Now search out and record the same type of vital record information about your parents, then your grandparents, and so on through as many generations as possible.

Start gathering your information by interviewing older living members of your family. Family documents, certificates, licenses, Bible records, scrapbooks, and photo albums can be very helpful. The library will have many sources of data including genealogies, census records, directories, and military records.

LOCATING BOOKS. Most of the books in the collection are located in closed stacks, though some statewide finding aids, vital records, and other references are available for browsing on the open shelves in the reading room. You can identify the books you would like to use by checking the card catalog under the author, subject, or title of the book. Subjects would include the name of the family (e.g. MARTIN FAMILY), or the name of a geographic area, followed by a subject heading (e.g. AUGUSTA CO., VIRGINIA. BIOGRAPHY.) Please fill out a request slip for each book you would like to use and the books will be brought to your seat in a few minutes by the paging staff.

GENEALOGY SUBJECT HEADINGS--SOME PLACES TO LOOK IN THE CATALOG:

LOCATING MICROTEXT. Microtext records are cataloged separately in the microtext reading room. Check the microtext catalog under the appropriate subject to get the roll number of the film you would like to use. You may get the microtext yourself, one item at a time. Please place all used microtext on the return cart for refiling by the staff. Aside from drawers marked census, city directories, military records, and passenger lists, be sure to check the lower half of the microtext catalog under the name of the state for county histories, vital records, or other courthouse records available only on microtext.

LOCATING PERIODICALS. Most genealogy periodicals are filed alphabetically by title in the open stacks of the department. Check the PERiodical Source Index (PERSI) on the reference shelves under the name of the family or the name of the state and county for a list of relevant articles.

BENJAMIN HARRISON (1833 - 1901)

On August 20, 1833 a son was born to John Scott Harrison and Elizabeth Irwin Harrison at the Harrison plantation at North Bend, Ohio. This son was to become the Twenty-Third President of the United States and to add luster to the name of the most famous family in the history of the United States. This son of John Scott Harrison was named Benjamin Harrison after several illustrious ancestors.

Young Benjamin was tutored at home for several years, then at age 15 he was enrolled in Farmers College near Cincinnati where he attended for three years. Here he was attracted to a young lady named Caroline Scott and when Miss Scott moved with her father to Oxford, Ohio, Benjamin followed and enrolled at Miami University there. After two years at Miami, in June, 1853, he graduated from Miami and then traveled to Cincinnati where he "read law" with a local firm. In October, 1853, he married his childhood friend, and in 1854 he took his new bride, Caroline Scott Harrison to live in Indianapolis, a bustling city of 16,000. He immediately went into the practice of law, and although his practice was not profitable at first, he succeeded in being elected City Attorney in 1857, and in 1860, Reporter of the Indiana Supreme Court.

In July, 1862, President Lincoln made his second call for troops and Benjamin could not long resist the urge to serve in the war. He recruited a company, which became Company A of the 70th Indiana Infantry Regiment. Ben was elected Second Lt. and then Captain of the company. Before the regiment marched to the field, Benjamin had been elected Colonel of the regiment.

"Little Ben" as he became known by the troops drilled his regiment very hard and by the time that they entered the hard fighting of the Atlanta Campaign in the spring of 1864, the 70th was one of the best disciplined regiments in the Army of the Cumberland. The 70th took part in the battles of Resaca, Cassville, Golgotha, New Hope Church, Kenesaw Mountain and Peachtree Creek. For his bravery at Peachtree Creek, General Hooker recommended Harrison for Brig, General and on March 22, 1865, he received this rank. In all the gallant 70th Regiment took part in 11 major battles and lost 189 killed and 194 wounded or 40% of the total regiment.

Harrison returned to his law practice in Indianapolis, and became a leader in state politics and in the G.A.R. In 1876 he was defeated for governor of Indiana, but in 1881 he was elected U.S. Senator, serving until 1887. In the Republican convention at the Exposition Building at Chicago on June 25, 1888, he was nominated for President on the eighth ballot. On Nov. 6th he was elected to the highest office in the land.

After his term in office, Harrison returned to his Indianapolis home on North Delaware Street and continued in the practice of law until his death on March 13, 1901.

Dear Boots,

I checked here and also called Dr. Datzman Medical Clinic for Death Records on names given me. We found nothing. I called Harold Furr, who is head of our newer Historical Society here on 6th. St. Its located in the old Ella Grant Lawson home, and they have really worked hard to get this started and gather up all information.
I asked Harold for "burial Records, and in he came today with several pages of information, which I hope applies to your ancestors.
He said that the parties in question would be buried in Boswell, Remington and Kentland Cemetaries.
Newton Circuit Court, Kentland, Indiana, telephone number is 219-474-6081, for additional information from them.

Hope this helps. Hope Harold's literature applies to your family.

Raymond, Get Your Letter In for the "50" th class reunion.

See you in July, if not before. Every one is getting enthused for the big one.
Plan to stay over night as they are planning a breakfast get-together the following day and a tour of old Fowler High and Benton Central. You are welcome to stay at the Overholser's if you do not care to get a room.
Need only to know in time to change the sheets. HA!

If I can be of any further help (hopefully) let me know!
Come see us.

97th Birthday Observed

11-27-57

For Mrs. Jennie Hock, daughter of a pioneer preacher, today marks her ninety-seventh birthday anniversary. She is spending the day quietly at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ulric Hunter, 303 East Washington, with whom she has lived many years.

Mrs. Hock became a resident of Attica in 1900, when with her husband, John, and daughter, she moved here from Williamsport. Mr. Hock was in the grocery business. For years he operated a store where the Vogue is now located and later moved to the site of what is presently occupied by Gary Lane's Tavern.

As evidence by the moving of her husband's store, it is easy to see that she has seen many changes take place in Attica. She has particularly noted the changes in the business district, a natural interest. There are now extremely few businessmen around who can recall when the Hock's operated their store.

People have come and gone, firms have changed hands, buildings have taken on new faces, too, but Mrs. Hock has kept up with the pace.

She is still very much interested in her church having devoted many hours of work in the different departments of the First Methodist Church until arthritis has made it impossible for her to attend any more.

Perhaps her alert mind, perservance of purpose, and understanding spirit were molded as the child of a pioneer preacher she moved with her family to many communities on both sides of the Indiana-Illinois state line.

Hoosiers may be proud of her, for she is a native of this sid of the line. She was born near Kentland Nov. 27, 1860. Both she and her husband attended the Green Hill Seminary.

After their wedding they moved to the west, returned to Green Hill, moved to Williamsport, and then in 1900 crossed the Wabash to Attica.

Warren Republican

THURSDAY, JULY 21, 1887.

Isaac Collyer, residing a mile north of Independence, in Warren township, is lying seriously ill from inflammation of the bowels. His recovery is reported as being very doubtful.

Sudden Demise.

Rosa, the wife of Thomas Lemming, residing in Warren township, died last Sunday night after a few hours illness. She prepared dinner on the day of her death and had caught, killed and dressed a chicken for the meal, and appeared in usual health. Latter in the day, or possibly in the evening, she was taken suddenly ill and grew worse rapidly until death. She was about 40 years of age, and leaves a young babe about two weeks old. When she died there was no one with the family but the husband, and the news of her death was not known by the neighbors until Marion Kiger went to the residence Monday morning to engage Mr. L. to help in harvesting, when Mr. K. found Mr. L. keeping sad vigil over the dead form of his companion. There are many sad scenes in this life and this is one of the saddest.

Bertha, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Southard, of Liberty, aged 15 months, after a brief illness of a few hours died from congestion of the stomach and lungs, Friday night at 10 o'clock, July 15th, 1887. She was taken ill at 10 o'clock a. m. on Thursday last, after eating a hearty breakfast, and had been playing about the house that morning, apparently in her usual health. Remains were interred in the cemetery at Pine Village last Sunday. This is the fifth child Mr. and Mrs. Southard have buried; they have four living. Dr. A. V. Moore attended little Bertha.

A. V. Holmes and Frank Crumpton are again associated together in the butchering business, at the old stand of Holmes & Dill.

John G. Pearson is still confined these hot days to his bed, from an acute attack of rheumatism. Dr. A. V. Moore is attending him.

Wheat is yielding a good average this year. Our grain men say they have purchased only one lot which yielded as low as 17 bushels per acre, which makes the average good.

Herman Long was out of town on the south side last Sunday afternoon, and as Mr. L. is rather a stranger in the vicinity outside the village, his long absence occasioned no little concern among the villagers with whom he is usually to be seen on such days.

MARY ANN.

" Forever sweet the promise,
While all we love depart;
And fade and fall the flowers,
That cluster 'round the heart.

Birthday Surprise.

Last Saturday was the 18th birthday of Miss Luetta Vanderbilt, and her parents decided to make her a surprise party. Nothing was done or said in her presence to indicate their intentions and the party was purposely arranged for last Monday evening. Of course the services of Miss Luetta were required through the day at the store, and she was detained with her duties at the store until after seven o'clock. Arriving at home she found her young friends had taken possession and having a good time, and then it was the truth dawned upon her. It was indeed a surprise to her and a pleasant party for the young folks. Ice cream, lemonade, cakes, candies, nuts, &c., &c., were the order at 10 o'clock and games came between times. All took leave of Miss V. wishing her many returns of the day.

Levi Cobb is slowly improving but is unable to leave the house.

Jacob Shank has opened a meat market north of the Falls House.

Mrs. Thomas Odle is reported better this week.

JOHN W. EDWARDS, Post Adjt.

When Dr. DeLancy winked at us the other day we did not exactly understand his wink. Later on another fellow gave us the wink and we were inclined to get mad. But when all our friends began winking we thought it was the fad, and so the next person we met we winked with both eyes at her and she said, what, not twins at your home again! No, thunder woman, NO! I could n't understand what was in the wind. But an opposition doctor who did not like Dr. DeLancey a little bit told us all about it and set us right. He told us that sometime Thursday Orlando Lemebus Winks, our next door neighbor two streets away, had fallen heir to a daughter, No. 2, and he was celebrating the event by purchasing a fine suit of Sunday broadcloth. We now understand the remark he recently made to a friend very confidentially when he informed him he was going to take a child to raise. We thought all the time he was going to buy one from the Home. Here's to you and yours brother Winks and may your squalls on life's voyage never be worse. May you live to see your house, cellar, front yard and back yard filled with your progmy, happy, fat and sassy.

The Musical Club of this place met last Saturday night at the home of Miss Lottie High. At that meeting the Club elected the following officers: Miss Ella Sutton, President; Miss Lois Fleming, Vice President; Miss Louise Kadel, Secretary. The regular night of meeting is Saturday every two weeks.

OBITUARY.

DAVID SOUTHARD.

Deceased was born in Ohio, August 15, 1842, and departed this life at his home, near Independence, Ind., December 5, 1895, age 53 years, 3 months, 20 days. His death was caused by lung fever. He was only confined to his bed one week; he leaves a wife and five children to mourn his loss. All through his illness everything that loving, untiring hands and a skillful physician could do was done. It seemed of no use—death came and took from us a dear husband and father. The remains were laid to rest in the Pine Village cemetery. A few appropriate remarks were made at the cemetery by Rev. Mr. Rodgers. He was united in marriage to Miss Nancy Odle, the eldest daughter of the late Thomas D. Odle, December 19, 1866. To this union eleven children were born, five of whom survive him. He was a kind, loving husband and father and friend, and was liked by all who knew him.

"'Tis hard to break the tender cord
When love has bound the heart;
'Tis hard, so hard to speak the words—
'Must we forever part.'"

"Dearest loved one we have laid thee
In the peaceful grave's embrace;
But thy memory will be cherished,
'Till we see thy heavenly face."

"We miss thee from our home dear father,
We miss thee from thy place.
A shadow o'er our life is cast—
We miss the sunshine of thy face."

"We miss thy kind and willing hand,
Thy fond and earnest care,
Our home is dark without thee,
We miss thee everywhere."

Card of Thanks.

Our heartfelt thanks are tendered to the many friends, both here and at Pine Village, who so kindly assisted us during the illness and death of our dear husband and father.

1153. Anne C. Girouard

Notes for Julien Lord:
JULIEN (LAURE) was the original Lord to come to Acadia fron France. The date was about 1670 Records of his family in France were lost n a church fire.Julien was buried in Port Royal. Jacques, second generation , was the second child of nine children. The name Lord is of French origin,and it is generally understood that the spelling was changed in Canada. An inquiry to the Public Archives in Ottawa regarding possible spellings of the name brought a reply as follows: Among the Gaudet Papers ,five spellings are Laure, L'Or,Lore,Lord.

It appears that Laure was the French spelling according to a source . The French laure means "crowned with laurels, a mard of honor,fame or distinction".

Prehaps the most complete history of the generation of Lords in Canada may be found in 300 years of the Gervalis-Roy Clan which was written by Br.Bernard Gervals CSC. the name was Laure ,not Lordit was the fault of the English at the time of the expulsion of the Acadians that change was made. It was Jacques (James) Laure who was exiled: the changes are that very few of the Acadians could read or write, and the British could think of no better spelling for the name that there English Lord. and so that is what is found in the records therefore. Julien Laure dit Lamontagne was the original Lord of the linein America-- which means that he had a surname .Lamontagne , which in English is translated "the Mountian ,dit meaning called"

Notes for William Odell(Odle):
William ODell, born about 1714, settled near Randallstown in Baltimore Co. Maryland. He probably died there in Jan. of 1749. The inventory of the Estate of William O' Dell, late of Baltimore County, was filed on Feb. 7, 1749. Elizabeth ODell, widow of William, Administratrix, filed 1st account, May 30, 1750, in the office of the Register of Wills , Baltimore City. She says there is no Kinn to the Deceased in this county that she knows of and gives names and ages of her children by the year. Appraisement made by John Stinchcomb and Joshua Owings. Her securities were John Ward and Edward Oursler. Several Tracts of Land owned by the Deceased seem to have been inherited by the eldest son John, under old English Law./ Some Researchers say Elizabeth was a Talbot.
